A true list, attest SAML, MARSHALL, Clerk.

We certify that the foregoing advertisements for the public sale of lands in the county of Hancock, was duly published on the 24th day of November, 1838, in the "Quincy Whig," published in Quincy, Adams county, Illinois, and that the number of the foregoing transcripts and notice so published, corresponds with the number of newspapers printed for that week, and that the same were published and distributed in single numbers in each newspaper respectively.

FIVE DOLLARS REWARD.

LOST a Small MOROCCO WALLET, in the vicinity of the Land Office in Quincy, or a short distance therefrom, upon the road to Columbus, containing two Tens and one Five on the State Bank of Illinois; also, one five dollar note on the Bank of Monroe, Michigan, together with five Duplicates for land. The above reward will be paid to the finder by delivering the above articles to Samuel Leach, Esq., Register of the Land Office.

DAVID SANBORN.
Quincy, November 13th, 1838.

LAND FOR SALE.

THE Subscriber has a valuable piece of Land, now occupied as a farm, which he wishes to sell. A part of the land has been under cultivation for several years, and is considered by those who are acquainted with the location, fertility of the soil, &c. as very valuable property. He will sell on the most reasonable terms, as he cannot attend to the cultivation of it as it should be. A part of the land is timbered, and a part prairie, conveniently situated on the State Road leading from Quincy to Payson and Pittsfield. To those who wish permanently to settle on the land, and make it a home, the subscriber would mention that the society of the neighborhood is excellent—that there is a school house hard by, with a heavy school. And to those who are so disposed, the location is convenient for a public house, as that road is the chief thoroughfare of that section of country.

The subscriber merely mentions these things, that those abroad who are in search of a farm of this description, might sufficiently understand the advantages of the location in every view; confident as he is, that the property is every way worthy of the consideration of those who wish to purchase.

As for terms: He would expect to receive a part of the money of the purchase in hand, and the remainder on time to suit the convenience of the purchaser.

Letters on the subject, post paid, to the address here annexed, will receive prompt attention. JAMES W. HATTON.

This day came the complainant, by her solicitor and filed her bill therein, and affidavit having also been filed that the defendant is not a resident of this State, it is ordered that unless the said defendant enters his appearance herein, and files his answer to the complainants bill, on or before the first day of the next term of this court, to be held at the court house in Carthage, on the fourth Monday in April next, the same will be taken as confessed. And it is further ordered that a copy of this order be published four weeks successively in some public newspaper printed in this state, the first publication to be in sixty days from this time, and the cause is continued.

THE QUINCY WHIG.

SATURDAY MORNING, NOV. 24, 1838.

☞ Our readers will perceive from the appearance of this paper, that we have not even room for an apology.

☞ We have received New York papers to the second day of election. They all speak most encouragingly of the success of the whig ticket throughout the State. The city papers speak very confidently. There has been a tremendous vote cast.

We understand there is a letter in town later than any papers received, which states the whig majority in the City of New York, at ONE THOUSAND SIX HUNDRED! SEWARD, the whig candidate for Governor, ran three hundred votes ahead of the ticket generally.

The City of Albany was doing finely for the whig ticket also. There were about 3000 votes cast the first day. It is estimated that the whig majority in the city and county of Albany, will go over 500.

In the city of Poughkeepsie, the residence of the Conservative U. S. Senator. Talmadge, there were 1137 votes cast the first day, of which the whigs claim a majority of 600. This majority will be largely increased in the county of Dutchess.

The news from Buffalo is also first rate. In short the signs of whig reform are exhibited in the right quarter for the success of the whigs—the eastern part of the state;—as it is generally conceded on all hands, that the entire West is Whig by thousands.

As the Almanac makers say, look out for the announcement of a BIG WHIG VICTORY about next week.

Our neighbors of the Argus seem to feed a long time on a little. The fragments of the Columbus Barbecue still keep them chewing. They must be short of provisions.

☞ The loco foco editors have finally coaxed Mr. Douglass into the scrape of contesting Mr. Stuart's election as member of Congress, for this District. The tall editor of the Chicago Democrat, says he has received a letter from the 'little giant,' in which he avows such an intention. According to the Chicago Democrat, Quincy Argus, &c. Governor Duncan and the other officers of State, were guilty of perjury, in giving the certificate of election to Mr. Stuart.

☞ The Mormons have surrendered to the Missouri authorities. The leaders are to be tried for treason. In one settlement in Caldwell county, a company of Missourians, fell upon a company of 34 Mormons, and massacred all but four.

☞ The contested election before the New Jersey Legislature, has been decided in favor of the whigs. So that state sends six good and true Whigs to the next Congress.

MARRIED—On the 22d inst. by the Rev. Mr. Windor, at the residence of R. R. Williams Esq., the Rev. JOHN ATKINSON of Hancock county, to Mrs. LUCINDA E. WHITNEY of this place.

————On Tuesday, the 13th inst., by the Rev. Mr. Spillman, Mr. JOHN M. HOLMES of Quincy, to Miss SOPHIA C., daughter of Col. N. Wyman of this town.—[Beacon, Hillsboro' Ill.

————On the 11th inst., by the Rev. Mr. Fisher, Mr. James Bartram Metz, late of Philadelphia, to Miss Eliza Ann Staley, formerly of Harpers Ferry, Va.

DIED—On the 23d inst., HENRY L. BERRY, infant son of the late H. B. BERRY—aged 15 months.

THE Trustees of the German Protestant Society, in this place, give thanks for the kind contributions for the erection of a Meeting House, and would also inform their American friends that the second quarter of their subscriptions are due. The Rev. Mr. Gumbell will begin to collect again next week.

Andrew Herleman, Geo. Merker, G. Pfanschmidt, Philip Bert, G. Dickhuth.—Trustees. Nov. 24

WALDIE'S LITERARY OMNIBUS.

It was one of the great objects, of 'Waldie's Library,' 'to make good reading cheaper, and to bring literature to every man's door.' That object has been accomplished; we have given to books wings, and they have flown to the uttermost parts of our vast continent, carrying society to the secluded, occupation to the literary, information to all. We now propose still further to reduce prices, and render the access to a literary banquet more than two-fold accessible; we gave and shall continue to give in the quarto Library a volume weekly for two cents a day; we now propose to give a volume in the same period for less than four cents a week, and to add as a piquant seasoning to the dish a few columns of shorter literary matters, and a summary of the news and events of the day. We know by experience and calculation that we can go still further in the matter of reduction, and we feel that there is still verge enough for us to aim to offering to an increasing literary appetite that mental food which it craves.

The Select Circulating Library, now as ever so great a favorite, will continue to make its weekly visits, and to be issued in a form for binding and preservation, and its price and form will remain the same.—But we shall, in the first week of January 1838, issue a huge sheet of the size of the largest newspaper in America, but on very superior paper, also filled with books of the newest and most entertaining, though in several departments of Novels, Tales, Voyages, Travels, &c. select in their character, joined with reading such as usually should fill a weekly newspaper. By this method we hope to accomplish a great good; to enliven and enlighten the family circle, and to give to it an expense which shall be no consideration to any, a mass of reading that in book form would alarm the pockets of the prudent, and to do it in a manner, that the most sceptical shall acknowledge the power of concentration can go no further. No book which appears in Waldie's Quarto Library will be published in the Omnibus, which will be an entirely distinct periodical.

TERMS.

Waldie's Literary Omnibus will be issued every Friday morning, printed on paper of a quality superior to any other weekly sheet, and of the largest size. It will contain,

1st, Books the newest and the best that can be procured, equal every week to a London duodecimo volume, embracing Novels, Travels, Memoirs, &c., and only chargeable with newspaper postage.

2d. Literary Reviews, Tales, Sketches, notices of books, and information from "the world of letters," of every description.

The price will be two dollars to clubs of five subscribers where the paper is forwarded to one address. To clubs of two individuals, five dollars, single mail subscribers, three dollars. The discount on uncurrent money will be charged to the remitter; the low price and superior paper absolutely prohibit paying a discount.—Subscribers to the Library or Port Folio, two dollars and a half. Mail remittances to be post paid.

On no condition will a copy ever be sent until the payment is received in advance.

As the arrangements for the prosecution of this great literary undertaking are all made, and the proprietor has redeemed all his pledges to a generous public for many years, no fear of the non-fulfilment of the contract can be felt. The Omnibus will be regularly issued, and will contain in a year's reading matter equal in amount to two volumes of Rees's Cyclopedia, for the small sum mentioned above.

Address post paid.

48 Carpenter st., Philadelphia.

NEW YORK WEEKLY WHIG.

THE constant calls at our office for a weekly paper has induced us to commence 'The New York Weekly Whig.'—We have incurred considerable expense in order to furnish our readers with a sheet sufficiently large to contain all the necessary matter expected in a weekly paper. We now present them with the largest paper in the United States.

On Politics our course is already known: Our articles will be comprehensive, moderate and candid, with enough firmness and decision to convince adversaries that they cannot drive us from the field while there is a rag of the Whig banner for us to rally under.

Scientific Sketches will also appear regularly.

We have made arrangements by which we will be enabled to present every week, excellent Medical Reports. This department will be under the supervision of one of the most eminent, experienced and skilful surgeons of this city, and cannot fail to be exceedingly interesting. There is not a medical journal published in New York, and something of the kind has been much needed. We trust our Medical department will in a great measure supply the want of so desirable a publication.

Foreign and Domestic news, we shall give as fully as possible, and we intend to copy largely from the French and English papers.

Foreign Literature will meet with careful attention. Our resources in this department are inexhaustible. German and French Literature will be particularly noticed. These departments supplied by one of the first scholars of the country.

Historical Sketches will appear frequently, and care will be observed to have them correct.

Biographical Notices of prominent men, will form a portion of the reading matter of the Weekly Whig. It is our intention to furnish accurate wood cut likenesses of our native poets.

The Drama we shall take under our especial keeping, and while we shall endeavor to do justice to the talented, we shall also closely criticise the wretched murders so constantly committed upon the stage.

Readings for Children will be furnished, with a wood cut generally accompanying. Our object here will be to interest and amuse the rising generation.

The Music of the stage needs reformation and it will become our duty to point out, as far as possible, several improvements which are absolutely required by the rapidly increasing intelligence of the community.

To the Ladies we have a word to say:—We shall not forget their interests;—balls, parties and the fashions will claim our notice frequently, and receive such attention as will please. We are fully aware, that to render our paper agreeable, we must receive the patronage and encouragement of our fair friends. We shall endeavor to deserve it, by always furnishing something suitable to their tastes.

Tales of engrossing interest will always be found in the Weekly Whig.

Reviews of late publications, and notices of novels and romances, will be regularly given.

The Poetry we publish will be carefully selected and we have on hand already several beautiful pieces from known writers, which we shall soon insert.

General Education will from a prominent feature in the Weekly Whig, and we shall constantly furnish matter of the first importance to parents and teachers.

Embellishments. We have several capital wood cuts, and others now with the engravers, one or more of which, may be regularly expected in each weekly number. They are mostly from original designs, and will add much to the value of the paper.

Commercial. We have a person employed who for a long time has been engaged in procuring commercial intelligence; who is every way competent, and will devote the whole of his time to the New York Markets. Under our commercial head will be found full reports of the Markets; Prices Current, Stock and Exchange, Bank Note Table, and all matters, calculated to interest business men, who will all find it to their advantage to patronize us, as we intend in each weekly paper to insert the advertisements published in the daily Whig during the week.

TERMS.—Three dollars a year, in advance, and no paper will be furnished unless the terms are strictly complied with.

Orders for the paper must be addressed to the Publisher, James G. Wilson, at the office of New York Daily Whig, 127 Nassau Street. No letters taken from the Post Office, unless post paid.

Communications may be addressed to the Editors, and sent also (post paid) to the office of the Daily Whig.

Persons sending five dollars, post paid, will be entitled to two copies of the Weekly Whig for one year, or one copy for two years.

NEW-YORKER.

PROSPECTUS OF THE SECOND VOLUME.

The publishers of the New-Yorker commenced in March last, a weekly edition of their publication in quarto form, and made as they thought, ample provisions for supplying as great a number of subscribers as their most flattering hope led them to believe would patronize the work under its then new arrangement.—They have been deceived—agreeably so, in their calculations, inasmuch as the favor shown to the publication rapidly absorbed the whole edition, and constant orders are received for copies which the publishers have been unable supply. With a view to obviate this difficulty, and meet the wishes of many who desire to patronize the work, the publishers have resolved to neuteralize the blank in the current order of the volume, by changing so far the present arrangement, as to furnish two volumes in a year, in lieu of one, as stated in the original prospectus.

On the 24th of September last, therefore, was issued the first number of a new series of the Quarto New-Yorker, or No. 1 of Vol. 2, thus affording to non subscribers an opportunity of beginning with a distinct volume, entirely unconnected with the one preceding, while our original patrons will be advantaged in receiving their copies in a form calculated better for binding of a convenient volume, than under the old arrangement. The distinguished line between the old and new series will be indicated at the head of the first page in every number; and as no change is contemplated in the size or quality of the work, no inconvenience can result to those who have taken it from the commencement; while, on the other hand, it presents the features of an entirely new publication to those who may date their subscription with the new volume.

Under its improved arrangement, the whole editions for one year will embrace two semi-annual volumes, each containing four hundred and sixteen pages of original and selected matter such as has heretofore been presented to its readers, and which it is hoped, has been of a character to meet the full approval of the literary and general tastes of the reading community.—The two volumes will comprise eight hundred and thirty-two pages, fifty-two of which will be music.

The aim of the publishers is to present in a compact, neat, and portable form, a literary and miscellaneous journal adapted to the intellectual wants of their readers; and from the flattering success that has thus far rewarded their efforts, they indulge the hope that the New-Yorker will continue to receive that share of public favor which it has ever been their study to merit. The expressions of cordiality and good feeling manifested by their friends and cotemporaries affords gratifying evidence that the character of their journal has been based upon a correct foundation, and it would threfore, be irrelevant to say ought regarding their future intentions, further than to express their determination of leaving no means untried of furnishing a sheet which will bear respectable criticism when compared with any of the periodicals of the day of a similar character.

To those who propose patronizing the work, promptitude in sending their orders is earnestly recommended, as from present appearances it is believed that, large as the edition is which will be printed, still the numerous orders daily received for it, will quickly put it out of the power of the publishers to supply back numbers, and they will not warrant the entire volume to those who may come in late with their subscriptions. Annexed are the conditions which must be strictly adhered to, as the line of conduct laid down will govern the transaction of business between the publishers and patrons.

Conditions.—The Quarto New-Yorker will be published every Saturday afternoon, on an extra imperial sheet of the finest qulity, comprising sixteen pages of three colums each, and afforded to its patrons in city and country, at three dollars per annum, payable inflexibly in advance. Orders from a distance, unaccompanied by a remittance, will necessarily remain unanswered. Any person or persons sending $5, positively free of postage or other charges, will receive two series for one year or a single copy for two years, and in the same proportion for a larger sum. The few who may desire to take the folio edition for immediate perusal and the quarto for binding, will be entitled to receive both for $4,50 in advance. We will cheerfully preserve their files of the quarto for any such who may desire it.

DR. JOHN SAPPINGTON'S,

ANTI FEVER PILLS.

ARE offered to the public for sale! Many thousands who have used of them, are ready to testify to their great superiority over any other medicine that has ever been offered to the American People in the cure of Fevers of every kind

An important recommendation to this medicine is, that it effects an entire cure, without prostrating the patient at all. And that so soon as the fever is removed he can pursue his ordinary business. And it is so entirely harmless, that during the time he is using it, he is not at all sickened by it, and need fear nothing from it, as the effect it has upon the system is altogether of a curative and strengthening nature. ABELL, John, an English musician, known for a fine countertenor voice, and his skill on the lute. Charles II. in whose service he was, intended to send him to Venice, to convince the Italians of the musical powers of an Englishman, but the scheme was dropped, and Abell at the revolution was dismissed from the chapel royal for his attachment to popery. He quitted England, and after various adventures in Holland and Germany, in the midst of opulence and poverty, he at last reached Warsaw, where he was invited to court. He evaded the invitation, till obliged to attend in consequence of a second order, he found himself in the midst of a large hall, seated in a large chair which was suddenly drawn up opposite a gallery where the king appeared with his nobles. At the same instant a number of bears were let loose below, and the terrified musician was ordered by the king to choose either to sing or be let down among the ferocious animals. Abell choose to sing, and afterwards declared he never exerted himself with such successful powers before. He returned to England, where he published a collection of songs dedicated to king William, 1701 The time of his death is unknown. He is supposed to have had some secret by which he preserved the natural powers of his voice to his last moments.

ABERCROMBIE, Sir Ralph, an English general, celebrated for his bravery. As his ambition was to distinguish himself in the service of his country, he studied the duties of the military profession, and when he rose to the title of major-general, in 1787, the rank was due to his merits and to his experience. In the several stations to which he was appointed, he always conducted with the utmost bravery. He was ever foremost in feats of danger and of glory So much valor did not pass unrewarded with the ministry; after supporting the honor of the British arms on the continent, and in the West Indies as commander in chief, and reducing several of the enemies, he was made a knight of the bath, governor of the Isle of Wright and forts George and Augustus, and raised to the rank of lieutenant-general. After his return from the West Indies he commanded in Ireland and Scotland In the attack on Holland by the English, Sir Ralph bore a conspicuous part, and the landing at the Helder and the subsequent actions evinced not only the bravery of his troops, but the judicious arrangement and military skill of their heroic leader, whose abilities even the French themselves were eager to admire and command. In the Egyptian expedition, the popularity of the veteran chief marked him as destined to gather fresh laurels for his country After a long delay on the shores of the Mediterranean, which seemed to argue almost timidity, Sir Ralph soon convinced the enemy that every noble exertion in the field of honor and glory can be expected from a British army He landed at Aboukir, in spite of the obstinate opposition of the French, 8th March, 1801, and advanced boldly towards Alexandria. On the 21st March a bloody battle was fought between the two armies, and the French, who had attempted to seize the English by surprise, found themselves unable to withstand the impetuosity of their opponents, and retired dismayed and conquered. This brilliant victory however was dearly bought; Sir Ralph, whilst animating his troops, received a musket ball in the hip, and died seven days after on board the fleet. His remains were conveyed to Malta, and there interred in the great church, where a noble monument with a becoming inscription, records his meritorious services. Sir Ralph was descended from an ancient and respectable family in Scotland, and one of his brothers, likewise engaged in the military service of his country, fell at the melancholy affair of Bunker's hill in the American war. Another brother has also acquired high distinction in the army.

ABOULAINA, a mussulman doctor, celebrated for his wit. When Moses, son of the caliph Abdalmalek, put to death one of his friends, and afterwards spread a report that he had escaped, Aboulaina, on hearing the circumstance, said in the words of the lawgiver of the Hebrews, Moses smote him and he died. The sentence was reported to the prince, and Aboulaina was summoned to appear. Instead of dreading the threats of the oppressor of his friend, he boldly replied in the words of the following verse in Exodus, Wilt thou kill me to-day as thou killedst the other man yesterday? The ingenuity of the expression disarmed the anger of Moses, who loaded him with presents

ADAMS, Andrew, LL. D., chief justice of Connecticut, was born at Stratford, January, 1736, and graduated at Yale College, in 1760. In 1761 he entered upon the practice of the law at Litchfield, in 1789 he was appointed a judge of the Supreme Court; and, in 1793 chief justice of the same. He died Nov. 26, 1799, aged sixty-three years.

ADAMS, Amos, a clergyman, favorably known in Massachusetts, at the time of his active labors. He was graduated at Harvard University in 1752; settled at Roxbury in 1753; and died Oct. 5, 1775, in the forty-eighth year of his age. No less than twelve of his occasional sermons were published, two of which were republished in London. He also delivered the Dudlean lecture of Harvard University in 1770, entitled Diocesan Episcopacy, the manuscript copy of which is preserved in the College library.

PROSPECTUS of the Bloomington Observer.—As we have resolved on changing considerably the character of our paper, it is due to ourselves and the public that we issue a prospectus of our second volume.

Our sheet will be so much enlarged that each number will contain an additional page of the present size.

With the commencement of this volume we shall assume a character in politics. A neutral paper seems not to satisfy the citizens of the county, and as little does it satisfy us. Amid scenes such as are now enacting, silence is inglorious and indifference contemptible. Ambition, endued with office is gathering to itself strength, and authority delegated in good faith, has been made to minister to usurpation.

When the measures of our National Executive become subversive of the Constitutional end and purpose of Executive power, patriotism demands and justifies opposition. We regard the Sub Treasury system as a measure of that character; as a measure insidiously devised to place our National Treasure under Executive control. Not less do we dislike the late Experiments upon the Currency, the war upon Banks and Credit, and the whole tissue of Schemes and Experiments which have reduced our citizens to poverty and the Nation to bankruptcy.

We take our stand with the great Whig party of the country, and the principles of that party we shall labor to support. We believe that those principles are based on the Constitution, that they are most favorable to the Rights of the People, and that their prevalence and adoption can alone restore the nation to its former prosperity.

The Observer is intended to be a vehicle of general intelligence and useful information We shall labor to diffuse sound principles of government, and to refute many prevalent opinions which we deem erroneous. The cause of Education and especially Common Schools, we shall do all in our power to promote, believing them to be of great and general importance, as an essential part of our free institutions. We are decidedly favorable to Internal Improvements on a scale as liberal as the resources of the State will permit. A further exposition of our course would be here unnecessary; it will be found in the columns of the paper itself.

TERMS—Two dollars and fifty cents per annum, in advance, or if paid within three months from the time of subscribing. Two dollars and seventy-five cents at the end of six months, and three dollars at the expiration of the year.

No subscription will be taken for a less period than six months, and no paper will be discontinued until it is paid for. Those who wish to discontinue the paper at the expiration of the time subscribed for, must give notice to that effect; otherwise they will be considered as desiring to continue subscribers.

Those who subscribe for six months only, must pay in advance.

All letters and communications must be post paid. 1

PROSPECTUS

OF THE QUINCY WHIG.

We propose to publish a weekly newspaper under the above title, in the town of Quincy, Adams county, Illinois. In politics, we shall support the principles maintained by the Whig party of 1776. advocating a free and equal government, to be controlled by the people through their representatives—guarding with vigilance their civil and political liberties—and opposing, not only the arbitrary exercise of executive power, but the extension of an influence already great, which "has increased, is increasing, and ought to be diminished."

For this reason, among others, we shall oppose the Sub-Treasury scheme; and, as we consider this the most important question before the people, we shall endeavor to acquaint our readers with all that relates to it, and to the subject of the National Currency and Finance.

Publishing a paper in the heart of a fertile country, which is rapidly advancing in agricultural wealth, we shall make the interest of the farmer an especial object of attention: and looking to the growing trade, population and resources of Quincy, and its value as a market for the surrounding country, we shall strive equally to promote its commercial improvement

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION—Two DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS, payable in advance. THREE DOLLARS if paid within six months, and THREE DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS, at the expiration of the year.

THE ROAD TO WEALTH!

Insured for Fifty Cents.

Just commenced, a new and valuable monthly publication, adapted to the purpose of every Farmer, and designed to propagate all useful and practicable information concerning the silk growing in the United States, entitled The American Silk Grower, and Farmer's Manual: Embellished with appropriate engravings, edited by Ward, Cheney & Brothers, N. J. and published by Charles Alexander, Philadelphia.

The first number of this highly important and valuable work, is now ready for delivery for delivery to subscribers. We beg leave respectfully to call the attention of our citizens to the praiseworthy objects it has in view, and for the promotion of which it has been put into operation.

There has not probably heretofore been a time when the attention of the people of this country was so much engaged on the subject of the silk culture as at present, nor a time when those who have already embarked in this business felt such entire confidence, not only that liberal profits may be derived from it, but also in their ability to produce as good silk as can be procured in any part of the world.—It is believed that all that is now wanting to fully establish this great interest in this country, with all its vast advantages, is but the vast dissemination of plain practical information concerning it; and to convince our citizens of what we know to be true, viz: that there is no more difficulty about raising a crop of silk, than there is in procuring a crop of grain. The capital thus bestowed yields a far greater return than can be obtained from any other branch of husbandry. The editors have long been engaged in the silk culture, and intend hereafter to give it their entire attention. They have made extensive arrangements for feeding the silk-worm, and cultivating that invaluable species of mulberry tree, the Morus Multicaulis.—And, from their long experience in the occupation and extensive correspondence with silk growers, they believe they may say without ostentation, that they shall be able to make the American Silk-Grower, useful and entertaining, and to communicate through its pages information as valuable respecting every branch of the silk business, as can be elsewhere obtained in the United States. A portion of the work will be devoted to nothing but the modern improvements of Agriculture, and such matters as are generally useful to the cultivators of the soil.

The proprietors respectfully solicit contributions on Agricultural subjects generally—and also the silk growing business in particular. Address the editors, Ward, Cheeney & Brothers, Burlington, N. J.

The work will be published monthly—every number comprising twenty-four large octavo pages, with the addition of a cover for advertisements, &c. and at the end of each volume, a complete table of contents will be furnished to subscribers. Terms, one dollar a year, payable in advance, for single subscribers. Twenty subscriptions will be supplied for a whole year, by forwarding a current ten dollar bill, free of postage.

All orders for the work, postage paid, will be promptly attended to, if addressed to the publisher, C. Alexander, Athenian Building, Franklin Place, Philadelphia.

Citizens, silk growers, agriculturalists, and others, who wish to procure the work from the present time, will please forward their names and the amount of subscription immediately.

Liberal Premium, any agent forwarding 100 subscribers for one year, and a $50 current bank bill, will be entitled to ten thousand silk worm eggs, selected from the most approved varieties—which can be forwarded by mail to any part of the United States, at a trifling expense, and which, if properly attended to, according to the instructions which are promulgated in the work, will yield a profit considerably exceeding the amount of the price of subscription for one hundred copies.

TERMS OF THE WHIG.

PROPOSALS.

FOR PUBLISHING A WEEKLY LITERARY JOURNAL IN THE CITY OF LOUISVILLE, UNDER THE TITLE OF THE "WESTERN LITERARY MESSENGER," DEVOTED TO NEWS, SCIENCE, LITERATURE AND THE ARTS:—Edited by Edward Flagg.

The most remarkable feature in the literature of the age is that periodical character, which for the past twenty years it has been gradually assuming. The advantages of this peculiarity have long since ceased to be problematical; but, while these are too palpable for reference, the same may not be asserted of those faults, which, as they attach themselves to every system of improvement, have not been absent from this. The periodical literature of the day has in our opinion assumed a character too exclusively Belles Lettres to afford that intellectual benefit which is its legitimate design. The graces have indeed flung around it their flowery chaplets, but their sisters, the Arts and the Sciences have too unfrequently been present to wreath the amaranth with the ivy.

Another deficiency in the periodical literature of our day, which we conceive not unworthy of mention and reform, arises from that eager endeavouring after what is termed originality, obvious to the most casual observer. The grand object appears to have been to issue at definite periods the greatest possible number of paragraphs and articles which have never before in their present form appeared in print. The value of a periodical has in fact been estimated somewhat like that of a bundle of sticks for the number of fagots—and not for the intrinsic excellence of the composition it embodied. Apart from the depreciation in the value of original matter which has been the natural result of this circumstance, it has induced a carelessness and indifference in the selections made from other productions.—The idea seems to have escaped consideration, that originality consists not so much in a novel arrangement of words and sentences, as in a peculiarity of thought and expression; and that a brief extract may often embody far more of valuable originality than columns of matter upon the same subject hastily thrown together in language and form somewhat different from what has hitherto appeared.

Professing views like these, the conductors of the periodical now proposed to the public would deem the department of selection one of importance hardly secondary to that of original composition. In the execution of this part of their design, they will avail themselves of the leading periodicals (scientific not less than literary,) of this country and of England, and will also have recourse to the most valuable publications of the day as they issue from the press.

Essays upon scientific or literary topics, or relating to the Arts, succinctly and perspicuously written, constitute a prominent feature in our design. Tales wrought up from fact or founded in fiction, having in view entertainment, utility, or both united, when brief and composed with care, will always find a place in our columns. Particular attention will be devoted to any thing elucidating the early history of the Western valley, and its present character, resources and natural scenery, as well as any thing of a traditionary or philosophical nature relative to its aboriginal inhabitants, their customs, origin, history, and the ancient monuments which are scattered over its surface.—Poetry, original and selected can never fail to find a place in our columns. Partizan politics, controversial theology, as well as forensic strife and personality, we need hardly say, do not enter within the legitimate design of our journal. The public mind is already in a state of morbid feverishness and irritability upon these subjects, which all the soothing and assuasive influences of literature may be hardly sufficient to allay and lull into quietude. Vice, false-religion, and false-government are rioting wildly throughout our land, and it is the independent press which alone may lash these discordant fiends back to the midnight of their caverns.

We will of course contribute to the columns of the Messenger all we can consistently with our other engagements, but we could not fulfil our design to make it in every way worthy of extensive patronage without engaging the services of an editor. Mr. Flagg, who takes charge of it, is perhaps not known to most of our readers. He is a most accomplished and beautiful writer, the author of various tales, essays and sketches of western scenery, which though published only in a fugitive form, have been extensively copied and read, and have received the highest admiration. He is at this time superintending in New York, the publication of his tour through the West, for which, having read some of the manuscript, we predict a brilliant success. We shall commence the publication of the Messenger as soon as a sufficient number of subscribers shall be obtained.

The "Western Literary Messenger," is designed to be issued weekly upon a sheet in quarto form, executed in a style and on type and material not inferior to other periodicals of a similar character.
